Six-year pact at blast plant here

Local 50 of the International Chemical Workers Union and the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corp. today announced the signing of an Experimental Negotiating Agreement which sets the ground rules for negotiating a new three-year contract and also provides approximately the same wage and benefit increases as those reached in the basic steel industry earlier this year.

Steelworkers which signed a three-year contract with National Steel and other major steel companies in April. The Experimental Negotiating Agreement, between Local 50 and the company, parallels the basic steel industry's Experimental Negotiating Agreement in providing for binding arbitration to avoid strikes over economic and contract issues and, like the steel agreement, has been extended to govern all aspects of the 1977 negotiations between Local 50 and Granite City Steel on another three-year contract.

The effect of this is to assure that there can be no strike or lockout over economic or contract issues at the Blast Furnace Department prior to Oct. 1, 1980.

The Experimental Negotiating Agreement was signed for Local 50 by Charles W. Hamilton, business agent, and Thomas K. Grady, president, and for Granite City Steel by Paul M. Walter, vice president-industrial relations. Negotiations over non-economic contract issues will begin in July with issues not resolved by Aug. 1 to be submitted to binding arbitration. The binding arbitration provision does not apply to negotiations over local working conditions at the Blast Furnace Department which are now going on.

Regional water resource study

Illinois and Missouri state governments have joined forces to advance a comprehensive planning effort to meet the water resource needs of this Bi-State metropolitan area through the year 2020.

Colonel T. Roger Peterson, chairman of the "Metro Study" executive board, said representation by both states on the board "should assure that the study is responsive to bi-state area needs."

The 14-member executive board is responsible for policy making and the selection of a comprehensive water resources plan for the Illinois counties of Madison, Monroe, and St. Clair; the Missouri counties of Franklin, Jefferson, St. Charles, and St. Louis, and the City of St. Louis.

In a letter to Peterson, Illinois Governor Daniel Walker expressed the hope that "the study can be so structured that it will be of use to both the state of Illinois and the state of Missouri included in the study area."

A letter from Missouri Governor Christopher S. Bond said, "We in Missouri appreciate the importance of wise and effective stewardship of our natural resources and look forward to full and active participation in the study effort."

Involving the leadership of government groups which are ultimately responsible for water resources activities increases the probability that

Plans for construction of two commercial paper recycling centers in this area, including one near the Chain of Rocks Bridge, were announced Thursday by Kenneth Hartbarger, president of MAL Landfill Corp.

Construction is to begin immediately on a plant at Route 203 and Interstate 70 in Canteen Township which will employ about 25 persons when it opens. At full operations, staffing may reach 50, and expansion of the plant and staff are anticipated.

An identical plant is to be constructed about January on MAL Landfill land near the east end of the Chain of Rocks Bridge. It should be in operation by mid-1975.

The Chain of Rocks plant was to be constructed first, but a lack of soil compactness forced the company to revise its plans and start in Canteen Township, Hartbarger said. Piles likely will have to be driven to stabilize a plant near the Chain of Rocks Bridge, but the building still is on the drawing board, he said.

The four-stand cold strip rolling mill at Granite City Steel will be shut down about three weeks while round-the-clock repairs are made to a 12,000 horsepower motor generator damaged by lightning in a storm at 7:55 a.m. Saturday.

An estimated 100 workers will be idled by the shutdown. Other employees at the plant will not be affected, firm officials said. Granite City Steel, a division of National Steel Corp., employs about 3,300 persons.

Lightning struck the plant's electric power distribution system damaging the generator set which provides power to the drive motors on the mill where the steel company transforms hot rolled coils into thinner-gauge cold rolled steel products, including cold rolled where SCA Services, Inc., parent company to MAL, plans to construct a similar plant in the near future.

"SCA has 18 such plants either built, under construction or on the drawing boards, including the two here," Hartbarger explained.

He said construction will begin as soon as proper zoning can be approved by the St. Clair County Board. The building will take an estimated five weeks to erect and should be in full operation by the beginning of November, he added.

The plant will salvage paper and corrugated cardboard from municipal and private trash loads, and will sell the paper to a local paper mill. A contract already has been signed with the mill for the new recycling plant to supply up to 30,000 tons of paper per year.

Inside the new plants will be "hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of equipment," Hartbarger said. He added, "People still will be the heart of the separating operation."

Loads of trash, some containing only 10 or 20 percent paper, will be dumped inside

MISSING LINK to completion of a Dobrey Slough interim drainage line is a giant pump and pumphouse that are to be placed inside this fence at the southern end of the slough. The contractor estimates that only a week to 10 days remains to complete the system but all work is halted by a Teamsters' strike. Residents of the Dobrey Slough area, whose homes are being damaged by high water table, are asking Gov. Walker to declare a state of emergency on the project and request the striking workers to return to their jobs until the system is in operation.

New Dobrey effort

In an effort to have an interim drainage line for Dobrey Slough completed soon, despite the present construction strike, residents of the slough area are attempting to convince Gov. Dan Walker to declare a state of emergency in the slough area, it was reported Friday.

Nancy Phillips, chairman of Gov. Walker's task force on flood control, is to tour the nearly completed interim drainage line sites Tuesday with representatives of the C.D. Peters Construction Co., contractor for the drainage line.

Pickets from Teamsters Local 525 of Alton struck most local contractors, including the Peters firm, June 3, stopping most construction in the area.

The strike caught the interim drainage line only one week to 10 days short of completion, a spokesman for the firm said Friday.

The only work remaining for the drainage line to be operational is installation of a large pump at the southern end of the slough, connecting electrical lines to the pump and placing a pre-fabricated protective shed over the pump.

Completed are a holding pond from which the slough water will be pumped, an underground forced main from there into existing Granite City sewers near Pontoon Road and Stearns Avenue, a pump in the median of Wabash Avenue near Ames Avenue which will pump water into the Nameoki Ditch, and the underground line from that pump to the ditch.

Other than the installation and connection of the pump at the slough and construction of the protective shed, the only other work to be done "is clean-up type work," according to the Peters' spokesman.

Residents of the slough area, who say their homes are being damaged by a high water table, say they need the interim drainage line to lower the high water level temporarily until a permanent Hillside Drainage System can be completed.

"The Granite City School District is now attached to Bellevue Area College."

They fear if the Teamsters' strike continues, the school district will be forced to close.

Carroll R. Bailey, 24, Harding Blvd., an 18-year-old student at Granite City High School South, apparently drowned early Thursday evening in a rain-swollen slough between the Granite City locks on the Chain of Rocks Canal and Rock Road.

His body was recovered from the creek about 1 p.m. Friday by the Alton Volunteer Emergency Corps which conducted dragging operations in the slough and nearby flooded areas.

The youth was pronounced dead at the scene at 1:15 p.m. Friday by Madison County Deputy Coroner Edward Werner, who said there was no evidence of foul play and no marks of violence on the body.

The Bailey youth could not be identified.

Willie J. Bailey, the youth's father, told authorities his son had left the canal area where the two were loading grain to get a truck at the family's home in West Granite. The youth was reported missing about 10:15 p.m. Thursday.

The sheriff's department speculated that the youth was taking a short cut from the levee area and may have wandered into the water which

Six-day July 4 festival

Diversified entertainment designed to appeal to all age levels and tastes is planned for the Fourth of July holiday celebration at Wilson Park.

The 15th annual festival will get underway Saturday, June 29, and continue through Thursday, July 4, making the upcoming event one of the longest Fourth of July celebrations ever to be sponsored by the Granite City Park District.

Climaxing the six-day festival will be the traditional and spectacular fireworks display on Fourth of July night, with the pyrotechnic exhibition to feature fireworks costing $2,000. Harold Brown, park district superintendent, said today: "Midway rides will be furnished by Ray Sweeney of New Athens and two special children's matinee sessions are planned from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday, June 30, and Wednesday, July 3, when all rides will be reduced in price. Clowns will visit with the youngsters at both matinees."

A band concert will be presented under the trees in Wilson Park from 2 to 4 p.m. July 4. The location chosen will allow concert patrons to picnic while enjoying the music and still remain relatively close to the midway area. Brown said. A dance for teens is planned from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. Monday, July 1, the park officer said.

The annual softball tournaments for local women and men's teams will start Sunday, June 30. Women's squads will play at Wilson Park and the men's teams at Worthen Park, Brown advised.

About 15 local civic and service organizations have reserved space for concession booths at the Fourth of July Festival and will offer various food items and beverages to carnival patrons.

HAVING FUN at the annual arts and crafts program sponsored by the city of Venice are Orlando Bell, 9, left, and Jason McGehee, 8, who are busy making hats. Standing in background is Richard Essington, recreational supervisor, and at right, partially hidden, is Terri Eck, a recreational worker. Venice has 150 youngsters registered in the program which offers daily activities Monday through Friday from 9:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

some of its cold rolled customers despite a complete shutdown of cold rolled production at the local plant during the period of repair, he said. It will also enable us to keep certain other departments in operation and continue high employment levels, Veeder added.

"This is another illustration of how the merger of Granite City Steel and National Steel has made Granite City a much stronger, more dependable source of supply for flat rolled steel products to St. Louis and elsewhere in its market area," Veeder said.

"The output of a single rolling mill plant is always subject to accidents such as the electrical storm which has temporarily disabled our cold strip mill. However, we are now able to call on the other steelmaking divisions of National Steel for assistance just as they are able to call on Granite City Steel when faced with similar emergencies."

"The demand for steel is so high that our customers as well as Granite City Steel are deeply concerned when a key unit like our cold strip mill must be taken out of production."

Midwest Steel and Granite City Steel will do their best to minimize the effects of this unfortunate accident on the manufacturing schedules of our cold rolled customers."

Granite City Steel, the largest steel plant in the St. Louis area, produces plate, hot and cold rolled sheet and galvanized steel. Granite City Steel became a division of National Steel Corp. in August 1971.

received a general wage increase of 28 cents an hour, retroactive to last May 1, and hourly increases of 16 cents each in the second and third years of the contract, with the effective date each year being Aug. 1.

Increments between job classes equivalent to those in the basic steel contract will be increased two-tenths of a cent an hour, retroactive to May 1, three-tenths of a cent the second year of the contract, and one-tenth of a cent the third year.

Also effective May 1, a 39-cent cost-of-living adjustment which became payable Feb. 1 will be included in the hourly wage rate. Cost-of-living adjustments as of Aug. 1, 1973, and Aug. 1, 1976, also will be included in the hourly wage rate scales, making a total of three cost-of-living rolls-in.

A revised cost-of-living formula will provide a 1-cent-an-hour pay boost for each three-tenths of a point rise in the Consumer Price Index (1967 equals 100). This will result in extra cost-of-living payments, retroactive to May 1.

All Local 50 employees on the payroll as of next October 1 will receive a $150 Experimental Negotiating Agreement bonus, payable the first pay period after Nov. 30. This provision will not apply, however, to employees hired after July 1 this year and terminated before Nov. 30.

"The 'economic package' also provides improved pensions, a 5 percent inflation adjustment in pension benefits in the third year of the contract, medical care insurance for retirees for the first time (until eligible for Medicare), a pre-paid dental program, a doubling of shift differential pay, additional vacation time and larger vacation bonuses and additional holiday and improved holiday pay, and other gains in such areas as sickness and accident benefits and insurance."

Granite City Steel, the largest steel plant in the St. Louis area, has total employment of about 5,200 at its plant and offices in Granite City. It is one of four steel plants operated by National Steel Corp.

$365,000 damages

M. & G. Transport Services, Inc., a Cincinnati-based barge towing company, will pay $365,000 damages to an East Alton man under terms of an out-of-court settlement reached last week. The case was settled after two days to trial before Madison County Circuit Judge Moses W. Harrison in Granite City.

Robert B. Cannon, 33, sued the company for $1 million for the loss of a leg in a barge accident in December, 1972. His attorney, L. Thomas Lakin of East Alton, said he believed the settlement was among the largest of its kind in the area.

Gateway force to show flood control movie

The Environmental Task Force of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council is sponsoring a film premiere of the first major motion picture on flood control reform, recently released by the Environmental Defense Fund (EDF).

The premiere showing will be held on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Lecture Hall No. 1 (next to Kelly Auditorium) of the Underground Lecture Hall Building on the St. Louis University Campus.

The film premiere, which is free to the public, is being sponsored by the Environmental Defense Fund, St. Louis University's Institute of Environmental Studies and the Coalition for the Environment.

Called "Planning for Floods," the film is intended for all Americans concerned with preserving natural rivers and protecting life and property from flooding.

David Caterson, 25, of 2019 Washington Ave., was treated and released at St. Elizabeth Hospital following an auto accident at 11:15 a.m. Saturday on 18th Street between State Street and Edison Avenue.

the buildings and machines will load the materials onto a central conveyor belts.

At separating stations, workers will remove cardboard, paper and other items, placing them on other conveyor belts.

Items not selected from the main belts, will continue into the landfills and be dumped. Corrugated materials will travel on other conveyor belts through large pulverizing units and be baled by fully automatic balers, it was explained.

Hargbarger said MAL plans to expand the plants to also separate metal and wood. Metal would be removed by magnets for recycling and the wood line would utilize automatic equipment to remove nails and other materials. Paper mills also would accept the wood.

The first plant could be expanded within a period of from six months to two years, he said. If the plant was expanded, the number of employees could increase to more than 100, he added.

"Even if the plant only breaks even, it will be a great, great environmental move. It not only will allow paper to be produced without cutting so many trees, it also will reduce the amount of landfill space needed to dispose of our trash," the company official said.

He said the first plant should pay its own way, according to the success of a pilot plant study paper and corrugated materials MAL has in operation in Maplewood, Mo.

Motorcyclist hurt

Carl Perkins, 20, of 2007 Cardinal Ave., was injured when the motorcycle he was driving was involved in an accident near Edwardsville about 2:30 a.m. Friday.

He was brought by an ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 3 a.m. Friday and was admitted here with a deep cut to his right leg, cuts to his left eyelid and right wrist and abrasions to his face and left leg.

VANDALIZE HOSPITAL
A vandal ransacked the doctors' lounge on the main floor of St. Elizabeth Hospital, it was reported at 5:20 p.m. Thursday. Doctors' reports were thrown throughout the room and items in the room were disarranged. Nothing was believed stolen.

the County Board of St. Clair County; John H. Poelker, mayor, St. Louis; Ralph N. Smith, presiding judge, Franklin County, Mo.; Douglas Boscher, presiding judge, St. Charles County, Mo.

Lawrence K. Rook, supervisor, St. Louis County, and president of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council; Alan Young, president, Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission; Jerome Sore, administrator, Region VII, EPA and representative of the Federal Regional Council; and Peterson, district engineer of the St. Louis District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Governor Walker is expected to name Illinois' representative to the executive board in the near future.

Preliminary work on the study began shortly after 1972 Congressional resolutions directed the St. Louis District Corps of Engineers to develop a comprehensive plan for water resources in the bi-State area.

The Metro Study constitutes the largest urban planning effort undertaken by the St. Louis District of the Corps.

Current study efforts are focused on gathering data, reviewing existing studies, and identifying local problems in flood control, use of flood plain land, wastewater management, water quality, water supply, water-related recreation, fish and wildlife conservation, and environmental enhancement.

Historically, water resources in the bi-State area have been studied and planned for primarily on a single-purpose, geographically isolated basis—one study for sewage handling in St. Charles County, another for flood control in Madison County, and so on.

Integration of the opportunities in all areas and throughout the study region are key Metro Study planning goals.

Madison Jr. high to retain split shifts

By WALTER STRANGE

The split shift plan at the Madison Junior High School will continue for the third year (1974-1975) by action taken at the Thursday night meeting of the School Board. The action is subject to approval of county and state school authorities.

According to Superintendent of Schools John Palchett, the plan is to follow the same pattern as during the 1973-74 year which went well.

The split shift allows for smaller classes, provides a better educational climate, improves student grades and requires fewer substitute teachers. Overcrowding of present facilities was given as the primary reason for continuing the plan.

Madison school officials are trying to get a grant to construct a new Madison Junior High which will eliminate need for the split shifts.

They have applied to the Capitol Development Board through the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction for a grant and are awaiting word on approval.

A special meeting to discuss personnel has been called for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the West L. Brown Building, 1707 Fourth St., Madison.

At this meeting the principal vacancy at Louis East School, created by the retirement of Kenneth Williams, may be filled. The board has eight applications for the position, including a letter from Richard Brown, MHS principal, applying for the position which was read and placed on file. Board members said they feel that they can not be responsible for children off the school grounds going to and from school.

A letter from a parent of a fifth grade student who was allegedly hurt on the way home from school, requesting the board pay the $65 in doctor bills, was read and placed on file. Board members said they feel that they can not be responsible for children off the school grounds going to and from school.

A letter and check for $900 was received from the scholarship fund from the Granite City Steel Torch Club.

Superintendent Palchett reported to the board he had received a letter rejecting Madison's request for pupils to participate in the Area Vocational Center, located at Collinsville. The letter said the center does not have room for more students.

The board voted to raise the salary from $1.60 an hour to $2 for students engaged in the summer work study program.

Surfco Co., with a low bid of $3,022, received the purchase order from the board for a new dishwasher. Of the cost $2,194 will be paid from state funds. Second lowest bidder was the Peerless Company at $3,412.

The treasurer's report for May, listed a $462,312 balance in the educational fund and $102,064 in the building fund. Salaries of $241,749 were approved for payment.

Stevenson not regarded as being as vulnerable as Sen. Fulbright

By ROBERT E. ESTILL
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau
Republican U.S. Senate candidate George M. Burditt's supporters are barking up the wrong candidate when they try to put U.S. Sen. Adlai Stevenson in the same tree with U.S. Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark. So believe John Taylor, an administrative aide to the Democratic incumbent. Taylor said the facts that applied to the primary defeat of Fulbright by Gov. Dale Bumpers just don't apply to Stevenson's situation.

Fred Bird, Burditt's press secretary, suggested a parallel exists between Fulbright and Stevenson.

He reasoned that Fulbright's defeat could be chalked up to voter sentiment that the 30-year Senate veteran had grown too distant from the people and issues of his state.

Bird said that same feeling was held in Illinois about Stevenson in many quarters. Burditt has tried to capitalize on any such sentiment by tagging Stevenson an "absentee landlord."

But Taylor maintains that the facts just don't support an "absentee landlord" title or a Fulbright comparison.

While Fulbright rarely returned to his native state, Stevenson has attended more than 700 events—including 318 Downstate—and has been in each of the 102 counties in his three and one-half years in the Senate, Taylor said.

Stevenson also has brought Congressional hearings and conferences to Illinois—on pensions in Elgin, on agriculture in Decatur, on gasoline and housing in Chicago, on flood disaster relief in Alton and Chester and on drainage problems in Granite City.

The volume of mail from constituents voicing opinions on issues or seeking help in some fashion also would dispel that "distant" theory, Taylor maintains.

Stevenson's Washington, D.C., office receives 2,000 to 2,500 pieces of such mail each week, while the volume at the Springfield office runs 300 pieces weekly.

Taylor concedes there may be those unaware of the frequency of Stevenson's Illinois appearances or his occupation with Illinois problems because of his low key approach of coming in for meetings on community problems without fanfare.

"We just don't run with a barrage of publicity and public relations men," Taylor said. "It's a quiet type of thing."

HOSPITAL BENEFIT PLANNERS. Potentate Charles G. Chenoweth of Ainal Temple and Red Schoendienst, manager of the Cardinals, talk about the approaching game July 19 that will benefit the Shrine's Hospital for Crippled Children. It is the hope of Ainal Temple that 10,000 tickets will be sold by Shrine's July 10. Ainal will receive $1 from each ticket sold. The money will go the Shrine's Hospital. This will be the largest outside program ever held at a Cardinal game.

July Cardinal game to benefit Shrine hospital

Ainal Temple, representing 8,400 Shrine's in Southern Illinois will sponsor a program July 19 at Busch Stadium that will benefit the Shrine's Hospital for Crippled Children.

This 7:30 p.m. game will be the first for such a charity, and will be preceded by the parade Units of Ainal putting on a show starting at 7 p.m.

Potentate Charles G. Chenoweth has placed Wayne Banks in charge of the tickets and their distribution, and he says that at this time they are moving very well. It is his wish that he can see a check for more than $7,000 given to the Potentate at home plate prior to the game, since every sale made before the game (time in date is July 10) $1.00 will be given by the Cardinals to the Hospital.

More than 400 Shrine's in the pre-game parade, and they will range from bands, drum corps, little cars, motor bikes, and Oriental music with many clowns. Ainal officers also will be in the line-up.

Greenwald signs with Twins

Granite Cityan James Joseph Greenwald, a standout right-fielder on the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's varsity baseball squad, has topped another successful season with the Cougars by signing a contract last week with the Minnesota Twins of the American Baseball League.

Greenwald, considered to have one of the finest throwing arms in American collegiate baseball, playing this year for Southern Illinois University of Edwardsville threw out seven runners trying to take extra bases, including homeplate.

Cougar opponents have a saying before each game, "Don't try to go against his throw."

Batting with a .293 average,

Greenwald, has collected seven doubles, three triples, and four home runs in his senior year.

"Even if Greenwald was not hitting," said Coach Lee, "he would still be invaluable because of his leadership ability and his dedication to baseball."

A standout football player—fullback for three seasons at Granite City High School—Greenwald turned down football scholarships from several of the nation's top-ranked colleges to play baseball at SIUE because, "I liked the way Coach Lee taught the sport, and I liked the way the Cougars played," he said.

He has been assigned as a rookie by the Twins to its Appalachian League at Elizabethtown, Tenn.

National riders continue to dominate cycle races

The scramble for the 1974 motorcycle track championship at Tri-City Speedway resumes tomorrow with elimination heat races beginning at 7 p.m. on the quarter-mile dirt oval.

The American Motorcycle Association sanctioned title chase, now entering its fourth week of the season, remain within reach of all takers since the weekly competition has been injected with many of the nation's top riders who have decided to tour the Midwest circuit this year. In past years, the national "hotshots" competed here only when enroute to a national event.

Thus far, the local cycle events have drawn nearly 100 riders each week as compared to the 40-to-50 weekly average of a year ago.

Among those who have been putting the clamps on the regular position titlists are the factory-backed racing team of Dick Mann and Rick Hocking, both of California.

Mann, a three-time national champion, is taking points away from the regular riders by consistently finishing in the top position collecting championships.

Hocking, last year's national indoor short track champion, is taking semi-event victories which advance riders into the feature races where the most points are earned.

With the exception of opening night when three-time Tri-City Speedway champion Neil Keen of St. Louis captured the feature event, national Texas riders Guy McClure and Mike Kidd have won the big ones.

Defending track champion Robert E. Lee of Texas has been running well but is failing to keep pace in races with the new competitors, which includes his brother James.

Lee took the track title in 1973 by winning almost every race after entering the competition near mid-season. Injuries were responsible for his late start.

Another new face this year is Greg Samsan of Georgia who was the 1973 novice high point earner in the nation.

If the national riders continue to dominate the local races, 1974 just may be the year that a national champion is also the Quad-Cities area's local champion.

Open swim competition

About 65 Granite City swimmers and divers will break the water in the pool of the Sunset Hills Country Club at 5 p.m. Wednesday as the Paddlers' Swim Club opens its competitive season against Sunset Hills.

Diving competition will be at 5 p.m. Wednesday with swimming events following at 6 p.m.

Paddlers' and Sunset Hills are among the seven members of the Southwestern Illinois Swimming Association conference. Other matches are to be scheduled this week between the Bellefontaine Country Club and Dorchester and between the Summers-Pont and Gailight teams. Montclair, the other team entered, is idle this week.

Competition is held in five age groups, eight and under, nine through 10, 11 through 12, 13 through 14, and 15 through 17.

Diving is scored on the basis of form and difficulty. Swimming events will include races and relays.

Post 113 recoups from loss for double wins

Granite City American Legion Post 113 boosted its season record to 3-5 after a 6 p.m. win at New Baden Thursday and with two consecutive wins, 6-5 over Belleville at Wilson Park Friday and 7-1 over O'Fallon Saturday.

"Just as it was with the Granite High South team," remarked Coach Conrad Champion, "we got off to a bad start and now it appears we are putting it all together."

Post 113 put it all together Saturday with the win over O'Fallon, the high school state qualifying squad.

Winning pitcher Mike Stanton split the hurling duty with Kirk Champion. The two allowed only four hits while their teammates collected five.

O'Fallon took a 1-0 lead in the opening inning and was held in check by Granite's defense while Post 113 tied it up. In the third, Paul Mushill reached base on an error, stole second, and broke a 2-3 tie with the winning run in the seventh.

Granite City took command of the contest by scoring twice in the fourth, Kirk Champion and Billy Carr singled and Darryl Page drew a walk to load the bases. Champion then scored on a fielder's choice and Carr came home on a wild pitch.

With two outs in the fifth, Champion reached first on an error and then scored on an infield error off the bat of Mike Stanton to stretch Granite's lead.

The local squad tallied its final runs in the seventh when Carr walked, stole second, and scored on a base hit by Mushill. Mushill also stole second and scored when Greg Linhart's fly ball was dropped by the left-fielder.

At New Baden, Post 113 used three pitchers—Greg Terrell, John Scott in the fourth, and Bill Dickerson in the seventh—but failed to contain the host squad.

New Baden scored one run in the first, two in the third, and broke a 2-3 tie with the winning run in the seventh.

Granite City, trailing 3-0 going into the fourth, narrowed the enemy's lead when Stanton led off with a double and then scored on a triple by Kafka.

Brett Champion singled to drive Kafka home for a 2-3 edge.

Dave Dombek led Granite City's one-run sixth inning with a triple and then scored when Stanton's fly ball was dropped.

Post 113's victory over Belleville Friday came on eight hits and one error. The visitors were allowed eight hits.

Granite City's Ray Smith started on the mound and yielded to Dickerson in the sixth.

Each side scored a run in the opening inning—Granite City when Paul Mushill doubled, advanced to third on Linhart's grounder, and then found a ground out by Stanton.

Belleville went ahead 3-1 with runs in the third and fourth innings.

Post 113 closed the gap to 3-2 in the fifth when Champion doubled and then scored on a bad pitch.

Both teams engaged in a scoring contest in the sixth with Post 113 coming out on top with four singles and Bel's two runners on a ground out by Stanton.

3rd feature race win for Spalding

Three-time Tri-City Speedway champion Will Spalding, of Pontoon Beach, warded off strong challenges by Russ Wallace and Bill Scherer Friday evening to capture the 25-lap late model stock car feature race for the third time this season.

The victory gave Spalding a sizeable lead in the current point standings (1,025) over second place runner Len Gittermeier (810) of St. Charles, Mo.

Spalding wrestled the lead from Valley Park's Ken Schrader on the third lap and was never headed after that all the way to the checkers. Wallace finished second, third, and Schrader was fourth. Spalding toured the half-mile dirt oval in 27.02 seconds as the fifth fastest qualifier in time trials. Scherer took top honors with a time of 26.33 seconds.

Spalding added to his point total with a second-place finish in the first heat race behind Gittermeier, the winner. The local racer then set the pace from start to finish in the handicap event.

Legion posts exchange wins

Granite City American Legion Post 113 played host to St. Louis Europa at Wilson Park yesterday and, split, a doubleheader with the visitors in the exhibition contests.

Post 113's 8-7 victory in the first contest handed St. Louis its first loss in nine innings. Europa bounced back in the second game for a 7-3 win.

St. Louis got on the scoreboard first with runs in the opening and second innings to lead 2-0.

Granite City racked up three in the third for a 3-2 edge. Brett Champion walked, Jim Kafka and Bill Carr singled to score a run and Kirk Champion blasted a two-run triple to right field.

The contest developed into a see-saw battle as Europa regained the lead with four runs in the third.

St. Louis stretched its lead to 7-4 with a run in the fourth but, a three-run ninth inning for Post 113 sent the game into an extra inning.

Jim Kafka got a base hit to start the ninth, Carr and Larry Petri both walked, and Dave Dombek got on by an error to force in a run. The tying runs scored on a base hit by Mike Stanton.

Winning pitcher Kirk Champion held the enemy in check in the 10th while Granite City collected the winning run on walks by Carr and Champion, and a base hit by Petri.

In losing the second contest, Granite City scored its only three runs in the sixth. Dennis Solberger singled, Mike Gagich got on by an error, Carr got a base hit and Dombek tripled all three home.

In Illinois Inter-City League baseball action Sunday at Wilson Park, Mercer's nine lost to Panama 7-3.

Mercer's scored its first run on a home run in the third inning by Vic Reznack. In the sixth, Bob Scott tripled and scored on a pass-ball. The final Mercer run came in the seventh with the bases loaded when Bruce Thompson scored on a fielder's choice.

Beat them both... summer heat and the energy crisis. Fedders engineers have used advanced rotary compressor technology and precisely matched and balanced components to bring to you a superb, reliable central air conditioning system with extremely high efficiencies... so you can save on energy, on operating costs.

The standard of measurement of air conditioner efficiency is the BTU per watt ratio which is the number of BTUs delivered by the air conditioner for each watt of electricity used. The Fedders rotary powered E-Flex air conditioning systems exceed long accepted industry performance. Compare Fedders ratios shown in chart below with ordinary units and you'll see how you'll save on operating costs month after month, year after year.

Miss Peggy Lee Eubanks, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Eubanks, 3914 Franklin Ave., and Joseph Elton Grindstaff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Grindstaff, 2200 Woodlawn Ave., exchanged wedding vows on June 15 at the First United Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. David Bruce Maxton performed the double ring ceremony at 10 o'clock in the morning before an altar adorned with arrangements of white gaidolus and painted daisies.

Lighting the candles prior to the service were Miss Kathy Cross and Miss Deborah Zedolek. Nuptial selections were provided by the church organist, Mrs. Isabel Schmidt.

Mr. Eubanks escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. She was groomed in a white satin dress lavishly accented with Alencon lace. An all-lace yoke was edged with a pleated ruffle of delicate organza, and ruffling banded the high Victorian neckline.

Wide scalloped lace masked the Empire waist extending to the hem to create a redingote effect. The skirt, gathered at the back waistline, fell gently into a chapel train bordered with matching lace.

She wore an open crown camelot cap of Alencon lace etched with pearls to secure her short illusion veil and she carried a cascade of white Jack

BPW leadership workshop at SIUC

Listening, learning and exchanging ideas were the principal activities at a Business and Professional Women's leadership conference held in the Student Center at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Twenty-four members of the Granite City BPW Club participated in the workshop program in which separate sessions were conducted for club presidents, vice presidents, secretaries, treasurers and chairmen of public relations, foundation, legislative, finance, membership and Young Careerist committees.

"Blueprint for Women" was the theme of conference. Miss Kay Howell, Illinois BPW Federation president, conducted the opening session for local club presidents, using a "Wheel of Leadership." She said such a "wheel" embodies all the qualities essential to one who aspires to a leadership role.

The state president cited management, salesmanship, friendship, statesmanship and showmanship as qualities which may be learned and developed by anyone willing to allow time, effort and energy to acquire them.

She noted that knowledge, education and skills can help one develop as a leader and that membership in a BPW club can further assist a person in these areas.

Mrs. Eleanor Y. Guthrie, national and state parliamentarian, discussed club procedures for conducting business and board meetings. She pointed out that Roberts Rules of Order, as revised, should be utilized, and urged those present to become more familiar with its contents.

A skit based on the "Blueprint for Women" theme was presented by Miss Yvonne Hirsch, Illinois BPW first vice-president and state program planning chairman.

A rap session for new members, and officers to discuss problems and learn more about the BPW objectives followed the workshops.

Attending from the Granite City club were Annelise Smith, local president; and Sylvia Wright, Rosemary Basenden, Sandra Tadlock, Lillian Naeve, Ruth Walk, Lois Wetton, Gladys Newman, Barbara Hader,

A short dissertation on the effects of the sun on your savings. By Oliver Esq.

Every day the sun comes up. And the sun goes down. Some days you don't see it. But it does it.

Now, this coming and going of the sun has many interesting effects. People get up and go to bed. Sunbathers get tan. Flowers bloom. And your savings get richer—if you save at Illini Federal, that is.

Because, at Illini Federal, we compound your interest every time the sun comes and goes. Some places do this only once a month or once or twice a year. We do it once a day.

So the first day you earn interest on your savings.

ILLINI FEDERAL
SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION

The second day you earn interest on your savings plus your interest. Etcetera.

Then, at the end of the quarter, we add all the interest to your account. Of course, if you withdraw your money before the end of the quarter, we still add the interest you've earned for every day it was on deposit.

Daily compounding means you get a higher annual yield—for instance, 5 1/4% on a pass-book account is actually 5.39% at Illini. It means you earn from the day of deposit until the day of withdrawal. And it may even make your day a little brighter.

Hello, sun.

FESTIVE PARADERS from Grace Baptist Church, 3910 Highway 111, who marched in the rain through Pontoon Beach and West Granite to announce the start of vacation Bible school and register children along the way. Wet clowns, a drenched lion and other assorted damp "animals" led by young people on bicycles, completed the parade despite inclement weather.

Parade announces church school

Rain poured from the skies as a festive group of gaily garbed youngsters and adults marched through Pontoon Beach and the West Granite area to announce the opening of vacation Bible school at Central Baptist Church, 3910 Highway 111.

Wet clowns, a gigantic ant and a Noah's Ark assortment of colorful "animals" continued their trek through the two areas despite the inclement weather.

Young people on bicycles served as the lead escort and church workers at the rear encouraged a few wet stragglers and registered youngsters along the route who wished to attend the two-week Bible school.

More than 375 children were enrolled in the two-week program which featured morning and evening sessions for pupils 4 years to 12 years.

Two lambs, a donkey and a

"moon man" visited classes during the first week when studies were based around the theme—"God's Strange Preachers." Stories of Noah, Abraham, Moses and Paul highlighted last week's sessions.

A family picnic Friday evening with homemade ice cream as a special treat caps closed the summer series.

FORMER RESIDENTS DEPART FOR GERMANY

Mrs. Shirley Blackburn and children, Kenneth, Lisa and Cindy, of Lawton, Okla., former local residents, departed Friday by plane for Frankfurt, Germany, to join the former's husband, Sergeant First Class Clarence Blackburn, who is on a three-year tour of duty there. Mrs. Blackburn is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Jackson, 1538 Second St., Madison.

Jayceettes aid camp for youth

Granite City Jayceettes presented a check for $180 to Mrs. Marie Hupp of the Easter Seals Foundation to help defray expenses of area children attending the Easter Seals camp for handicapped youngsters.

The presentation was made during a meeting last week.

The contribution was raised through a series of bake sales and "party plan" events sponsored by Jayceettes members throughout the year.

Mrs. Diana Meador served as charity chairman in 1973-74.

The June business meeting was combined with a wienie roast and lawn party at the home of Mrs. Diana Meador. Mrs. Emaline Meador and Mrs. Carolyn Jones reviewed plans to operate a soda trailer.

Mrs. Linda Weible, president, was in charge. Others attending were Cheryl Gann, Peggie Hoffmann, Janis Weible, Wanda Hill, Marlene Ross, Sharon Cooper and Diane Warnhoff.

Ryan-Humphrey wedding at South west Baptist

Miss Carole Lynn Humphrey, 4053 Kathy Drive, became the bride of Bruce Edward Ryan of St. Louis in a double ring ceremony at 6:30 on the evening of June 15 at the Southwest Baptist Church, St. Louis.

The Rev. Dr. Frank B. Kellogg officiated at the candlelight service and Mrs. Eva L. Farnham played "Meditations" on the organ as the prelude. Pianist Jean Hartin performed "Claire de Lune" followed by violinist Jon Grindstaff playing "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" and "Meditation."

Mrs. Vicki Simpson sang "Follow Me," "The Wedding Song" and the Lord's Prayer, accompanied by Jon Grindstaff and Larry Smalley. Parents of the bride are Mrs. Gladys H. Humphrey, 1811 Princeton Place, St. Louis, and Carl W. Humphrey of St. Louis. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Ryan, 1317 Veronica Drive, St. Louis.

The gown of ivory silk organza over taffeta worn by the bride featured a Victorian neckline and long tapered sleeves. The fitted bodice was embellished with medallions of re-embroidered Alençon lace, enhanced with an ornate sunburst effect of seed pearls.

Additional decorative lace accented the floor length skirt which swept into a graceful court train.

Her formal length madrasa veil of silk illusion, edged with matching scalloped lace, cascaded from a small camelot cap and she carried a bridal bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and baby breath.

Matron of honor Mrs. Joan M. Bystrom of St. Louis, and the bridesmaids, Miss Cynthia E. Humphrey, a sister of the bride, and Miss Carole J. Locke, both of Granite City, Mrs. Patricia E. Wack of Highland and Mrs. Deborah C. Wilbur of Dallas, Tex., were dressed alike in formal length gowns of powder blue chiffon.

Flowing chiffon ruffles formed the subtle V-necklines and an over the sleeve trim. A crumpled cummerbund defined the natural waist and each attendant held a bouquet of pale blue gladioli encircled with a garland of stephanotis and baby breath.

The flower girl, Carolyn K. Guthrie, and the ringbearer, Curtis B. Guthrie, are both from Memphis, Tenn. She wore a long ivory colored frock embellished with embroidered silk and enhanced with a powder blue sash. She carried a basket of blue and white roses. Dennis M. Ryan served as best man for his brother, Richard L. Byrd, Paul E. Christ and Gerald L. Edelmeier, all of St. Louis, and Michael W. Regan of Boston, Mass., were groomsmen. Guests were seated by Robert S. Bystrom of St. Louis and Michael D. Guthrie of Memphis, Tenn.

The couple received friends and relatives at a reception held at the Machinist Hall, St. Louis. A rehearsal dinner was served to the wedding party at LeChateau, St. Louis.

After a honeymoon to Las Vegas, Nev., and Los Angeles, Calif., the newlyweds are now residing in St. Louis. The former Miss Humphrey is a music teacher at Russell Johnson School. Her husband is employed at Mallinckrodt Chemical Co., St. Louis.

Miss Pamela D. Haynes marries Leonard Wendel

Miss Pamela D. Haynes, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Haynes, 11 Carroll Lane, Glen Carbon, formerly of Granite City, became the bride of Leonard S. Wendel, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard T. Wendel, 1110 W. 20th St., on June 15 in the Religious Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Wesley Anderson at four o'clock in the afternoon before an altar decorated with a circular arrangement of summer floral bouquets.

Guests were received by the couple at a reception given at Riedel's Restaurant, Edwardsville, after the service. Mrs. Chris Speer presided over the guest book.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a white organza gown. The sheer yoke was edged with crystal acordion pleating, accented with Venice lace and centered with tiny rosebuds.

The decorative trim formed the high neckline and the cuffs of the long sheer sleeves, and defined a wide gathered flounce encircling the A-line skirt.

Her mantilla veil was bordered with matching Venice lace and she held a bouquet of pink roses, daisies and baby breath.

During the ceremony, Miss Agatha Klym sang "Somewhere" and "One Hand, One Heart," accompanied at the organ by Miss Debbie Bennett.

Maid of honor Miss Judy Oros and bridesmaid Mrs. Don Haynes, a sister-in-law of the bride, were gowned alike in floral print halter dresses, complemented with cape styled jackets.

Both attendants wore pale pink spun straw hats and carried bouquets of pink roses, daisies and baby breath.

The groom chose his brother, Larry Wendel, as best man, and Don Haynes, the bride's brother, as groomsmen. Ushers were Craig Haynes, another brother of the bride, and Mike Speer.

Mothers of the bridal couple selected formal length gowns. Mrs. Haynes appeared in a powder blue dress made with a scoop neckline, trimmed with a blue chiffon ruffle, and long sleeves. The groom's mother, Mrs. Wendel, was attired in an aqua blue frock designed with a high collar and long fitted sleeves and worn with a front belt, giving the back a flowing caftan look.

Both wore matching accessories and cymbidium orchid corsages. Mr. and Mrs. Wendel, parents of the groom, hosted a rehearsal dinner at Tempel's Smorgasbord on the evening preceding the service.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Roy Forshee, an uncle and aunt of the bride, of Marietta, Ohio, and Larry Wendel, the groom's brother, from California.

Some say Kerner 'led astray'

By KEN WATSON
Springfield Bureau

Does the imminent impeachment of former Gov. Otto Kerner mark the end of an era in Illinois political history?

The United States Supreme Court in its ruling refusing to hear appeals of convictions of Kerner and Theodore J. Isaacs, his state revenue director, did more than write an apparent finis to one of the most fascinating chapters in Illinois' long story of governmental corruption.

By its action the nation's highest court destroyed contentions of Kerner and his supporters that his prosecution was politically inspired. Kerner unquestionably was the most personally popular governor this state has had since Henry Horner in the 1930s. Even during the lengthy trial and subsequent legal appeals, Kerner retained much of his personality.

He still does and in Springfield far more people today speak favorably than unfavorably of him. In Springfield the prevailing view remains that Otto Kerner was, and is, a basically good man, but that he was led astray by some around him, far less noble than himself.

In the four Isaacs the public has a handy villain. But those sympathetic to the ailing judge ignore long known beneath the Statehouse Dome that Kerner was warned by other top aides including the late and well-respected interim Secretary of State and Circuit Court Judge William H. Chamberlain, who as an administrative assistant to the governor was brusquely brushed off by Kerner when he attempted to warn him about Isaacs' maneuverings.

Unlike the public a circuit court jury, a circuit judge, a tribunal of federal appeals judges, and now the United States Supreme Court itself have weighed the evidence against Kerner with hard and cool legal objectivity and collectively decided that he did violate his public trust.

Like a number of other

Illinois elected government officials before and after him, Kerner has repeatedly been found guilty of using his high office to make money for himself.

Had Kerner not been governor and as such having immense influence in assigning racing dates, it is beyond comprehension that he would have been permitted in 1962 to buy race track stock for $1,000 a share — when it was actually worth $6,000 a share — and sell it in 1966 when it was worth a total of $150,000.

This is the substance of the case against Kerner. It has withstood the persistent and minute scrutiny of appeal. It is significant that in the long struggle to avoid the penitentiary, Kerner has concentrated on political factors rather than specific points of evidence. He has insisted that his prosecution was ordered by no less than President Nixon as a political effort to weaken the Democratic party in Illinois and assure the president's carrying of this state in the 1972 election. Kerner attorneys have also tried to relate his case to the Watergate affair, contending that a federal judge like a President cannot be tried on federal charges unless he has been impeached. Now the Supreme Court has curtly dismissed this contention. In Illinois supporters of Kerner and other Democrats have contended that his prosecution was a grand maneuver by U. S. Atty. James R. Thompson to build a political career, to open the way for a run for mayor of Chicago or governor of Illinois. This claim, too, lies shattered in the Supreme Court's cold and brief decision.

But will the Kerner story be read by contemporary Illinois politicians and deter them from similar ventures in the future? Beneath the Capitol Dome cynicism prevails. Despite the tragic story of the handsome governor, the flood of oratory about ethics legislation, the brilliant work of prosecutors like Thompson and the calm reasoning of the courts, it is freely predicted that in the years ahead there will be others.

Reservists hear drug abuse talk

John R. Garrett, senior counselor for the Madison County Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependency (MCCADD), gave a lecture presentation at the training seminar for the 50-38 U.S. Army Reserve School-87th Training Division, commanded by Colonel Philip Deming, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The training seminar is a two-day experience for Reserve trainees in an effort to combat the growing problem of alcohol and drug abuse, Garrett said.

William C. Reinhardt, a Williamson, who is vice president of Student Affairs at SIUE, coordinated the seminar. Many educational training and lecture services are being offered throughout the area by the MCCADD, which is located in offices at 1243 W. 9th St., Alton.

Garrett said such training as given the Army reservists "is a progressive step toward the prevention of alcohol and drug abuse in the community."

RINGS ARE STOLEN
A young man walked from the home of Robert York, 254 Center St., at 2:25 p.m. Wednesday, asked Mrs. Martha York in the front yard, where someone lived and walked away. Mrs. York said she thought her husband was inside the house, but when she went inside, she found he had been in the back yard and that the man had taken four rings worth $400.

THE SCHERMER BULLETIN
We were very interested in the letter to the editor from the American Legion and VFW regarding their problems with their Poppy sale. Being an active Shriner, Avery had encountered the same problem in connection with the Salvation Army of Lights Campaign.
Now, we have been crying out like a voice in the wilderness for years, about corporate chains who come into our area. Like no part in our community, and TAKE YOUR MONEY AND RUN OUT OF THE STATE WITH IT. We have made our feelings known before, but you the public have the power to correct this problem.
There is no reason why the incident referred to in the Forum should have happened. Further, there is no reason why we the residents of this area, shouldn't insist that the "outsiders" who come into our midst to do business here, shouldn't be good supporters of the United Way, the local churches, and all the rest of the groups that depend on voluntary contributions.
Now this is not a blanket indictment of all outside Corporate Bodies. Some are great. A.O. Smith has provided not only funds but more important, leadership. National Steel has become a leading concerned citizen of our community and they should be complimented. We can't say the same for all the rest.

and 68 to hereafter make their contributions to the United Way as individuals rather than as a group will be distributed to union members, the committee decided.

The joint committee also met Thursday with S. R. "Pete" Nasir, executive director of the Tri-Cities United Way, to say that its action against the Torch Club "poses no reflection" against the United Way and that cooperation with the United Way by union members will continue.

Zirges said the issue is "strictly between the unions and the company and does not involve the United Way."

The committee said there are several thousand workers participating in the Torch Club through which charitable contributions are obtained.

"We feel that if we cannot make collections among the workers for our individual benefits, there is no reason why we should participate in a company-sponsored collection," the committee said.

United Way officials say it would be inaccurate to characterize organized charitable clubs and group contributions as a "company" or "management" activity.

The United Way concept involves labor-management teamwork and participation, and functions only through participation by people of all walks of life, a United Way leader said, adding that the Torch Club and United Way campaigns here always have been featured by prominent involvement of union members and union officers as well as other citizens.

A company spokesman, asked Friday about the union complaint, said there has been no cancellation of permission to make solicitations. He said the rule still stands that solicitations may be made within a department with the permission of the department head, so long as such solicitation does not interfere with the work of the solicitor or those being solicited.

He added that plantwide solicitations still may be made with permission of the plant security department by workers on their own time. Solicitations on a plantwide basis, he said, are required to be made at plant entrances, locker rooms or plant restaurants.

Funds ok'd for water table study

An appropriation of $30,000 to fund an engineering study of Granite City's underground water table problems was approved by the City Council last week after Dr. Robert Koepke, assistant geology professor at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville said such a study will be essential to halting sanitary sewer breaks in the city.

Mayor Paul Schuler said that he and Dr. Koepke had met with John Houston of the St. Louis engineering firm of Sverdrup & Parcel to discuss the problem of installing sewers in areas subject to high water tables, and that all agreed a study of the water problem, its cause and probable solution is the first step the city must take to cope with the sewer-break problem. Granite City has had 28 sewer breaks since early in 1973 and since May of that year has spent more than $1.6 million in repair costs.

In addition to approving the appropriation, the council authorized Mayor Schuler to bring in a contract for the study with Sverdrup & Parcel.

Dr. Koepke, who was authorized by the council two months ago to initiate studies which hopefully will lead to an understanding of the cause of high water tables in this area, reported to the council that data is now being compiled by the Illinois Water Survey. That study should be completed in about three weeks, he said.

Dr. Koepke said that he had been unable at this point to find a promising source of outside revenue to fund a thorough engineering study and that local financing would be necessary.

Mayor Schuler said he plans to apply to the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency for help in conducting the studies, but that local financing should be provided meanwhile.

The $30,000 appropriation will be added to the city's 1974-75 budget which is now being completed by the city's finance committee.

MITCHELL FIREMEN assisted firemen from South Roxana and the Shell Wood River Oil Refinery in battling a fire at the Refiners Transport Terminal Corporation on Highway 111 about 1/4 mile north of the Hartford canal last week. Flames destroyed the contents of a one-story aluminum building. Smoke was visible for several miles. Firemen managed to prevent flames from spreading to several oil tankers parked near the burning building. Mitchell responded as part of the Madison County Fireman Association's mutual aid program.

New treatment proposal

A proposal to upgrade the Lansdowne Sewage Treatment plant to provide secondary treatment was presented during a meeting of the Madison and Venice and two representatives of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District Thursday afternoon.

The suggestion was made as an alternate to the proposed Metro-East Regional Treatment Assn. plan (MERTA), which would link the areas using the Lansdowne facility with East St. Louis and Sauget and construct one large secondary sewage treatment plant for the whole area at a cost of about $53 million.

Under the plan for improving Lansdowne, East St. Louis and Sauget would have to provide secondary sewage treatment for themselves, individually or jointly.

Boy, 10, hurt in cave-in Doyle Birk, 10, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don (Wanda) Birk, 3229 Iowa St., was in critical condition during the weekend in the intensive care unit of St. John's Mercy Hospital, St. Louis, after he was crushed under falling dirt in an accident in Chesterfield, Mo., Wednesday.

According to his father, the boy and his brother, Donald, 12, were visiting an aunt in Missouri and were playing along a gully at the rear of the mobile home park in which the aunt resides.

The dirt apparently had been undermined and collapsed under the boys.

Donald said his brother dove into the ditch as the dirt collapsed, but disappeared under the falling dirt. Donald fell on top of the dirt and received only minor injuries.

Doyle was removed from under the dirt and was taken to the hospital where X-rays showed several broken vertebrae in his back, a chest injury and possible stomach injuries.

His father said visitors are not allowed at this time, but cards may be sent to room 422 at St. John's Mercy Hospital.

Demo telethon June 29-30

The Democratic Party turns to network television for the third consecutive year this month to present its views and to ask that the average American get involved in the political process.

"Answer, America — Democratic National Telethon '74" will be carried over the CBS television network from 10 p.m. (EDT) Saturday, June 29, through Sunday, June 30, at 7 p.m. (EDT). The 21 hours of programming will originate live from Los Angeles.

Show business stars such as Paul Newman, Helen Reddy, Groucho Marx and Betty Davis will join political headliners such as Senators Kennedy, Humphrey, Jackson and McGovern in the course of the long program. Fund-raising goals for the states will be shown and progress reported from an "election returns" set operating from a satellite studio, complete with an anchorman and hourly updates on a specially designed and constructed Returns Board.

Net proceeds from the Telethon will be divided two-thirds to the Democrat Committee of the state from which the money came and one-third to the Democrat National Committee.

Democrat Party Chairman Robert S. Strauss, in announcing the plans for Telethon '74, said, "The Telethon is another major step forward in campaign financing by turning to the American public and woman, whether Democrat or Republican, if you care about your Party, if you care about your country, if you want good government, you have to pick up a piece of the action."

The theme of the show — "Answer, America" — is a call for concerned American citizens to get involved by seeing the Democrat Party in action, by contributing small sums to finance political activities, by sending in their comments to the Party, and by taking an active part in political life.

The 21 hour live broadcast will seek to both reaffirm America's basic values and convey that there is a vital role for concerned people to play in this country's public affairs.

The first national political telethon was staged by the Democratic Party in July, 1972, and produced a net return of $2 million. In 1973, using a theme of "America Goes Public," the second Democratic National Telethon had a net of over $2 million, which was shared fifty-fifty with the states of origin.

Chairman Strauss, viewing the costs of network television time and the heavy commitment of effort in this year's campaigns, hesitated to recommend a third Telethon. However, in a meeting with Democratic State Committee Chairmen, there was an overwhelming demand that the Party return to the air this year.

"There was a sentiment," said Strauss, "that to not proceed with Telethon III would be a breaking of faith with the American people who have shown such an eagerness to get involved this way."

The 1974 Telethon produced contributions from more than 250,000 persons, many of whom wrote that they had never contributed to a political candidate or organization previously.

A Democratic Telethon III Committee has been organized in each state, managing approximately 100,000 volunteers who will go door-to-door and canvass by phone to remind people of the program dates, June 29-30, and ask for support. There will be 230 telephone centers located throughout the country to which pledges may be called, and these will have 4,000 phones with 30,000 volunteers accepting both cash and credit card pledges.

Restrictions eased on student hiring

Restrictions are eased on the hiring of full-time students at subminimum wages for part-time and summer jobs as a result of the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) amendments effective last month.

Secretary of Labor Peter J. Brennan has announced that retail, service or agricultural employers may now employ up to four full-time students at 85 per cent of the minimum wage by filing an application with the secretary of labor.

Employers seeking to hire more than four students must still receive prior certification from the secretary. This is to ensure that student employees do not displace regular full-time workers.

The new amendments also will enable colleges and universities to employ their full-time students at 85 per cent of the minimum wage, with no restriction on numbers, in accordance with regulations proposed by the secretary of labor.

Employers may pay student learners working in bona fide vocational education programs 75 per cent of the minimum wage, upon filing proper application with the secretary.

In all cases, student employment must be in compliance with applicable child labor laws.

Hiring law is linked to banks

Attorney General William J. Scott held in an official opinion last week that the Illinois Fair Employment Practices Commission can require all Illinois banks and financial institutions to conform with the state's fair employment practices statutes in order to be eligible for deposit of state funds in these institutions.

Scott's opinion was requested by State Treasurer Alan J. Dixon, who asked if the deposit of state funds constitutes a "public contract" within the meaning of the Fair Employment Practices Act.

Shanahan-Adams nuptials at SIU Religious Center

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL R. SHANAHAN, who exchanged wedding vows in an evening ceremony at the Religious Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, the bride is the former Miss Christine Anne Adams, a daughter of Mrs. Kenneth Willis of Colorado Springs and John M. Adams of Creve Coeur, Mo.

The wedding of Miss Christine Anne Adams of Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City, and Michael Ray Shanahan of Edwardsville, was solemnized on June 14 in the Religious Center of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Eggshell colored satin ribbons decorated the chairs and emerald green ferns interspersed with white spider mums stood on either side of the altar to provide the setting for the 7:30 p.m. ceremony performed by the Rev. James Shortal.

Mrs. John Chao presided at the organ for the soloists, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bradshaw, cousins of the bride, who sang "The Wedding Song." "One Hand One Heart" and "We're Only Just Begun."

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Kenneth Willis, Colorado Springs, Colo., and John M. Adams, Creve Coeur, Mo. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Shanahan, reside in Greenfield, Ill.

Michael L. Adams Sr., of Colorado Springs, a brother of the bride, escorted her down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage.

She chose a silhouette gown of soft eggshell colored plisse woven of polyester and cotton. The dress was designed with a mandarin collar and short puff sleeves, edged in an ornate crocheted lace.

The molded bodice was accented with a double ruffle to create a bib effect and centered with tiny covered buttons. A self fabric belt marked the Empire waist and defined the long slim skirt, bordered at the hem in matching lace.

A double bow of white organza embellished with Venise lace daisies, centered with clusters of seed pearls, secured her lace trimmed veil of illusion. She held a colonial bouquet of white daisies, yellow Sweetheart roses, white carnations and baby breath, festooned with knotted streamers.

Miss Lynn Whaley, a SIUE classmate of the bride, served as honor attendant. She wore a pale blue Empire style dress made with a high neckline and full, puff sleeves. Variegated embroidered trim in pastel shades of yellow, pink and blue formed a decorative contrast on the bodice and at the neckline.

Her bouquet was an arrangement of yellow daisies, miniature blue carnations and baby breath with yellow streamers.

The groom chose Michael Bishop of Overland, Mo., as his best man.

Miss Tammy Jo Adams, a sister of the bride, served as candlelighter and was dressed in a long dotted swiss gown in blue and white. Miss Jonna Bloodworth, the bride's cousin, wore a pale yellow dress to register the guests.

A reception for family and close friends was held at the Officers Club at the Granite City Army Installation.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Willis chose a full length powder blue gown with tiny floral motifs accenting the bodice. The groom's mother, Mrs. Shanahan, selected a long dress in a pastel floral design. Both mothers complemented their ensembles with white gardenia corsages and white accessories.

The bride, a 1972 graduate of Granite City High School, presently is attending SIUE where she is studying nursing. She is a member of Alpha Phi Sorority and works in the Physics Department at the university.

Mr. Shanahan was graduated in 1965 from Greenfield High School and served two years in the U. S. Army. Currently, he is a student at SIUE, majoring in environmental science. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity.

Auxiliary to hear Girl Staters

Tri-City American Legion Auxiliary Unit 113 finalized plans for a special meeting to honor the two Granite City girls slated to speak at the Girl's State convention in Jacksonville by the unit.

Auxiliary members and the public are invited to attend the meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Legion Hall, Mrs. Bonnie Jaco, president, announced.

The two honorees, Miss Marianne Morrison and Miss Beverly Edwards, who represented both Granite City and high schools, will relate their experiences at the Girl's State convention which concluded last week.

Mrs. Rose Halbert, chaplain, led the group in prayer to open the business session. Mrs. Jaco gave reports on the 22nd District convention held in Belleville and the 5th Division meeting. Both events were held earlier this month.

Plans were made for a party at the Alton State Hospital, with Betty Howell and Alma Klaus in charge. The co-chairmen said new clothing, lap throws and new batteries for small radios were delivered to veterans at the hospital.

Poppy chairman, Mrs. Mildred Rees reviewed the poppy day sales and expressed appreciation to those who assisted in the annual project. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lumeta Durbin.

MADISON YOUTH under the direction of Mrs. Shirley Greer, and with the approval of Madison Fire Chief Eldon Rhoads are painting the fireplugs on Madison Avenue to resemble clowns, Keystone cops, and other characters. Officials must be as accountable as the public for living within the law

Aside from the merits of the evidence in the conviction of former Governor Otto Kern, the question of whether he should be freed because he is a federal judge would seem to answer itself. No one, with the possible exception of the President, can be legally immune to prosecution for his conduct warrants it.

In ruling on June 17 that the former Illinois chief executive is not entitled to further review of his conviction for bribery and other crimes, the U. S. Supreme Court said that Mr. Kern — like other Americans — must account for his actions and submit to the judgment of his fellow citizens, as represented by a jury.

As a result, Mr. Kern may become a marmoth in a term, although he undoubtedly will cite his heart ailment as a reason for him to not actually be confined. He currently is seeking a reduction in a three-year sentence.

The former governor has argued in part that the U. S. Constitution prohibits the indictment and trial of a federal judge prior to his removal from office by impeachment. The immunity contention is similar to that made, equally unsuccessfully, by former Vice President Spiro Agnew.

Mr. Kern and a former department head, Revenue Director Theodore Isaacs, were found guilty of conspiracy, bribery, mail fraud, tax evasion and filing false tax returns. The ex-governor also was convicted of perjury before a grand jury and of making false statements to Internal Revenue Service agents.

The government charged that the two received horse race track stock at reduced prices as an incentive to ensure favorable racing dates and other beneficial treatment.

The convictions were upheld on an appeal to the U. S. Circuit Court in Chicago, and now are in effect ratified by the highest court of the land in declining to interfere with the decision.

The point that officials as well as average citizens must live within the law, without special protection from following the rules of society, now has been underscored, and appropriately so.

Offholders should not only equal but exceed other citizens' adherence to the law, for it is they who enact, interpret or administer the laws of the community, state and nation.

Fireworks ban delay puts much of the responsibility on parents' shoulders

Hopes that there would be an increased crackdown on individual fireworks were dashed when a 30-day postponement of new rules was ordered by the U. S. Consumer Product Safety Commission 17 days before Independence Day.

This is unfortunate because nearly all forms of fireworks are dangerous. Maimings, blindings and deaths were frequent several decades ago when both children and adults were allowed to use them freely.

Major public fireworks displays are presented on the Fourth of July at many locations, including Wilson Park, enabling the pyrotechnics to be viewed safely, but many families still patronize St. Charles, Franklin and Jefferson County fireworks stands in Missouri and bring their purchases here.

Parents would be wise to closely supervise or bar such "fun," in view of the CPSC staff's finding that thousands of people have to be treated for fireworks injuries and burns each year, and that there is virtually no way to improve the situation short of a ban.

Good thing Venice warehouse wasn't full of Illinois Bar's current project

News occurrences last week included a mammoth fire at the Venice warehouse formerly operated as an asphalt products plant, and the Illinois Bar Association's decision to seek repeal of laws banning personal use or possession of marijuana.

A possibility that comes to mind is the future legalization of marijuana, its storage in such a warehouse, and the prospect of a major fire. It would make quite a blaze, and the unintentional "pot party" could send firefighters and spectators as "high" as the leaping flames that required many hours to quell.

Barge delays show need for dam

(St. Louis Regional Commerce & Growth Association)
Replacement of Locks and Dam 26 at Alton on the Mississippi River is important to the business, labor and community interests of the St. Louis metropolitan area.

The community's leaders work together in cooperation with the political institutions and the general public to improve St. Louis' economic environment.

Since a significant portion of our economy is dependent upon St. Louis' strategic position on the Mississippi River, we are vitally interested in the continued and growing movement of commodities on that river system.

We are grateful to Congress for last year approving a construction start on the replacement of Locks and Dam 26, just above St. Louis on the Mississippi, which has become a major bottleneck to barge movement.

Early replacement of Locks and Dam 26 is perhaps the most essential and urgent project in the current navigation improvement program on the nation's inland waterways. It is the key structure on the entire Mississippi River system and, in its present antiquated and deteriorating condition, is adversely affecting the low-cost barge transportation on the inland rivers.

Dam 26, possibly though unlikely because of excellent temporary rehabilitation measures by the Corps of Engineers, would deprive all cities on the Upper Mississippi and Illinois Rivers of modern barge transportation.

The present energy crisis emphasizes the seriousness of this possible situation. At least two thirds of the annual eight million tons of coal obtained from the vast Southern Illinois reserves have destinations at various power plants along these rivers.

The refineries at Wood River, just below Locks and Dam 26, are major sources of fuel oil barge to Chicago and other upstream cities.

Grain exports, much of which are moved south by barge, are extremely important to improving our balance of trade deficit. There is no practical alternative to these barges moving to and from the Upper Mississippi and Illinois Rivers through Locks and Dam 26.

Efficient and adequate locks at this point to the Upper Mississippi and Illinois Rivers are vital to a healthy St. Louis region which depends on water for 30 per cent of its shipments and receipts.

River-oriented industries in St. Louis, including chemical, cement, petroleum refining and primary metal manufacturers, employ 43,000 persons with an annual payroll of over $400 million.

The current delays for barge tonnage waiting to go through Locks and Dam 26 are detrimental to the growth of these industries and could well

Flat grant system offers savings

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois Public Aid Department expects to save about $1.5 million yearly under a new policy which makes public aid recipients responsible for paying their own utility bills when due.

For at least the last four years, the department had guaranteed to pay utility bills for aid recipients if they defaulted, a policy which cost the state $70,000 in the six-month period between June and December, 1973. (Prior to that, Bill Detweiler in the public aid department said the department simply paid the bill whenever a recipient said he couldn't pay it, under a "house rent of system," which was formed up four years ago.) In return for the written guarantee, utility firms did not require deposits from recipients, to begin service.

As of April 1, public aid recipients have been on their own, like anyone else, in seeing that their utility bills are paid on time. If they have no funds, counseling will be available from the department, and in extreme cases, "protective payees" will be named to handle their money for them.

The new policy is linked to the adoption several months ago of a flat grant system of welfare payments. While some recipients have charged they will be forced to come up with $150 or even $200 in deposits for gas and electric service, a sampling of utility firms around Springfield indicates the companies are not anxious to collect deposits, on which they must pay seven per cent interest.

W. Robert Hahn, director of customer and community relations for the Springfield City, Water, Light and Power Department, said those on welfare are treated like anyone else. Homeowners pay no deposit, while a $50 deposit is required from renters, unless they can produce a letter of credit showing a good credit rating with some other utility firm. Where this good credit history is established, Hahn said, no deposit is required. Where it is collected, it is usually returned either at the end of 12 months, or when service is terminated.

Jack Harren, manager of residential and commercial service for Central Illinois Public Service Co., says that CIPS notified its customers with their April bills that the public aid department has changed policy. No deposits will be collected at this time, he said, even from customers with a poor pay record, since "they may have been careless about paying because they knew the department would pay if they didn't." In future, he said a CIPS customer who is delinquent three times in a row, or four times within 12 months, will be asked to pay a deposit 2 1/2 times an average bill. This usually amounts to $25 to $30 he said, and is automatically returned with seven per cent interest if a good pay record is maintained for six to eight months.

Jack Dorsey, head of the commercial office for Central Illinois Light Co., said that utility asks no deposit from any new customer for electric gas service, letting each customer start with a clean slate. After three months of service, and again after eight months, the customer's record is checked. Should a record of delinquency and collection difficulty be found, the customer will be asked to pay a deposit which usually runs around $50. Dorsey said the figure is somewhat less than the utility is permitted to charge, under a Commerce Commission ruling which sets a maximum deposit at 2 1/2 times an average bill.

Detweiler said the previous policy, in effect, provided unauthorized additional welfare benefits to people who didn't meet their obligations and thereby "reinforced poor behavior." People are generally on welfare an average of two years, he said, adding "they managed their own money before that and they'll manage it now." He said, "It doesn't make sense to have the department guaranteeing to pay their bills for them."

Under the new policy, he said, recipients who fail to pay utility bills will be asked by the department in setting up a schedule by which, over a period of time, both the deposit and the amount due for service, will be paid. If a recipient then fails to carry out the schedule, a "protective payee" is named, usually a family member or perhaps a case worker not assigned to the recipient's case. The payee receives the welfare check and allocates the funds.

This aspect is one which is usually the object of the objection to the flat grant program, which is currently being tested in at least four lawless brought by public aid recipients or welfare rights organizations.

Figures compiled by the state Commerce Commission indicate wide fluctuations in utility basic costs. The Public Aid Department's flat grant system is based on the rates charged in the area in which the recipient lives, with the state divided into three basic groups for this purpose.

Favors warning to deter 'streaking'

To the Editor:
"Citing their desire to deter streaking at school functions." This is indeed a positive gesture by school officials.

I'm sure this aspect was a thought of reality to many and should have been anticipated by the school, due to publicity of such stunts at different schools around the states.

I feel that this mother, in trying to protect the public for her son's actions, requested the suspension out of humility.

I'm very sincere in trying to tell the people in Granite City that she and her son were not perfect but would try to pay their bills to society in accepting the suspension.

I'm sorry she did not have legal counsel to guide her. I believe the suspension should have been suspended and a statement made to the effect that if it happened again the parents would be dealt with harshly to the full extent.

The fine would have been sufficient, with the work being a humiliation to him in public, plus the sorrow he has caused his parents and himself.

Surely he will have learned right from wrong over this stunt and do his own thinking from now on.

I'm in such an agreement that what he did was wrong, wrong,

But one punishment was sufficient. With all the other problems we have on school premises, I would class this as just one of them.

This stunt didn't cause bodily harm to anyone as drugs would. So, due to the fact that there are so many other expressions going on in our schools, the decision to suspend the boy should be weighed in that light.

As for the "tears," to me that would be a sign of emotionalism in its speediest form, since five minutes probably took care of the whole performance.

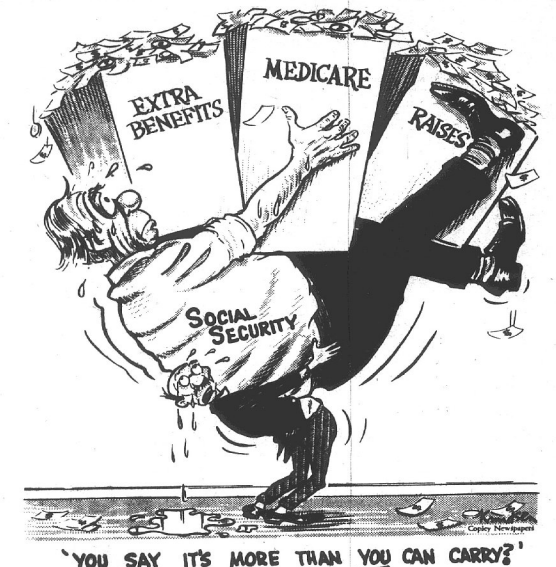

There is another point I'd like to bring out and that is the fact that a couple of years ago students at the same high school set the school on fire. Does anyone know whose hands were slapped for that incident?

Also, I feel the students who aided and paid for this boy's performance are just as guilty as he is.

Law and order are so unequal today that I feel it's "who you know," "who you know," "how wealthy you are" as to what kind of punishment you receive for a crime.

I'm sure God's first happiness is being able to forgive a sinner, so how about us? God bless his parents, too.

Health funds used for Illinois Information Service TV studio

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. Daniel Walker's political image; James Dunn, the director of the IIS claims the prospect of a major fire. It would make quite a blaze, and the unintentional "pot party" could send firefighters and spectators as "high" as the leaping flames that required many hours to quell.

After reading a news story two months ago about the administration paying for a new television studio with money from the Public Welfare Building Fund in the Department of Mental Health, Sen. Democratic Leader Cecil Partridge did a little investigating which cited the state law money by which the money in that fund should be used.

In a letter to Mental Health Director LeRoy Levitt, Partridge said:

"I question whether the citizens of this state can reconcile the installation of a television studio with the relieving of overcrowded conditions at state mental health hospitals."

Clearly, the studio at IIS does not help relieve overcrowding at institutions. "It is quite possible that this purchase is beyond that specific legislative authorization," Partridge said. "I am aware of the statement on the Governor's Release of Funds which indicates that the expenditure is intended to reduce costs in the Department of Mental Health. While I am supportive of the objective of economy in government, I am concerned that this transaction is in violation of the applicable state statutes. ...

"I am unable to determine how this transaction can be construed to be a proper charge against the appropriation and fund involved," the senator said. "Your prompt reply setting forth your reasons for believing this to be a legal transaction will be appreciated."

Levitt, rather than defend the purchase, switched the charge to the telecommunications funds.

"The governor has been asked to cancel the release to use Public Welfare Building Fund Capital Funds," Levitt replied to Partridge.

"More appropriately, I believe, telecommunications funds will be utilized," he said. "I appreciate your calling this matter to my attention."

Obviously, telecommunications come closer to being appropriate than a fund designed to reduce overcrowding. But there might still be a question on the use of that fund. The law specifies:

"Telecommunication services include all expenditures incurred for the lease, rental of telecommunication equipment, supplies, maintenance services. ... Telecommunication services shall include but not be limited to the interconnection of educational television, radio and computers, but shall not include the preparation of, or the control of, subject matter to be transmitted. Telecommunication equipment includes telecommunication equipment, telephone, teletype, teleprinter, computer, voice data or video interconnection facilities systems."

The attitude of the crowd after graduation at the same school was much more unfavorable.

Members conferred with McCain and four other candidates. The selection broke a deadlock four days earlier in which there was a tie vote on appointing Aaron Bravin, assistant Madison County school superintendent, to the Madison post.

Board's duty to set school standards

To the Editor:
The letter in the Forum June 13 has prompted me to voice my opinion on the "streaking" incident a few weeks ago.

Both writers were of the opinion that the Board of Education was too hard on the young man who performed what I would consider a low act.

Parading before a crowd of hundreds of people, in a nude, and subjecting a group of young ladies to an incident not of their choosing does not appear to be one of the harmless riles of Spring.

As an elected body, representing the interest of the citizens of Granite City School District 9, it is the duty of the Board of Education to take stern measures at such a flagrant insult to a part of the student body and the spectators.

I would like to congratulate each member and offer the suggestion that they never allow an incident such as this to go by without the severest punishment.

Both writers evidently are uninformed, it has been stated that the issues of the law that the young man would work off the $100 fine at $5 per day.

Why should anyone assume, with that information available, that his family would pay the fine?

His school work can be caught up in summer school and five subjects per semester for one year. Why should he be bored repeating classes? The school would have plenty to think about.

My senior daughter attended GCHS North and her sophomore and freshman sisters were, thankfully, not subjected to such a sight.

My 18-year-old daughter and I will remember with pleasure "Spring, Carousel 1974" (North's "May Day").

My sympathy goes to the family of the "streaker"; they will never be able to forget his act.

If these stern measures had been taken at other schools, perhaps he would not have been prompted to cloud one of the highlights of graduating senior girls.

If a Forum writer finds it difficult to believe that anyone except the streaker himself would be embarrassed or would cry, I would like to suggest the talk with the Madison County court or a number of people in the audience.

Graduation prank a serious offense

To the Editor:
Having attended May Day and graduation with several children, ages 2-11, I feel I must have my say.

I don't believe from the reaction of the crowd around that that anyone was seriously offended by the May Day streaker.

Because of the vastness of the crowd and the fact that the streaking was a rapidly moving object, I don't believe many young, glib children remember what had happened. The attitude of the crowd after graduation at the same school was much more unfavorable.

Graduation caps were thrown into the air, injuring several people and almost creating a panic to evacuate.

In all fairness, should we not punish these children for causing bodily harm, starting a disturbance or attempted mayhem? I was much more offended by the likelihood that someone might have been seriously injured, started a disturbance or attempted mayhem?

I hope the School Board and Press-Record put these events into proper perspective, and condemn cranial crushing more than a freak incident. I am not a fan of either action. WARREN ANDERSON WOMAN

Cancer Society elects

The Madison County Unit of the American Cancer Society held its annual meeting and election of officers Thursday at the Stratford Hotel, Alton.

Harold Ruyle was re-elected as chairman of the board, Dr. Edward Cornell was elected president of the Medical Board, Mrs. C. Page Taylor was re-elected secretary, and Mrs. William Heydon was re-elected treasurer.

Ruyle announced that two Alton physicians have joined the Cancer Society Board.

They are Dr. Clarence Horton and Dr. Robert F. Hamilton. They will serve for a period of two years. The board now consists of 46 members from Madison County, 16 of which are in the medical profession.

Highlight of the evening meeting was when Mrs. Ruth Wilderman, executive director of the American Cancer Society introduced two new "teaching techniques" now being used in educational meetings by doctors and nurses. One is "Belsi," a plastic model that actually dramatizes lumps in a woman's breast. This is most commonly used in teaching women breast self examination.

The other is a plastic model of the male posterior that dramatizes rectal cancers and is used with a proctoscope. Both methods have proven highly successful.

Later in the evening, a new film, "Breast Cancer, Where We Are" was shown. Mrs. Wilderman remarked that, "We at the Cancer Society are somewhat like the medical profession, in that we are constantly reading and using new methods to educate the public about cancer."

She also cautions everyone to become aware of cancer's seven warning signals which are, change in bowel or bladder habits; a sore that does not heal; unusual bleeding or discharge; thickening or lump in breast or elsewhere; indigestion or difficulty in swallowing; obvious change in wart or mole and nagging cough or hoarseness.

85 conventions planned

The Watchtower Bible and Tract Society has revealed plans for 85 district conventions of Jehovah's Witnesses in the United States and Canada in this year.

John Camp, minister of the Granite City congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, said there will be 74 assemblies for English-speaking delegates and 11 meetings in Spanish, French and Italian.

Camp said approximately 100 delegates will represent the Granite City congregation at the convention scheduled for Springfield, Illinois, June 27 to 30.

He added that 17,000 delegates are expected to attend the Springfield convention set for the Springfield Fairgrounds.

"Hundreds of thousands of persons are looking forward with eager anticipation to the series of 'Divine Purpose' District Assemblies of Jehovah's Witnesses this summer," Camp said.

"The combined attendance is expected to reach nearly one million persons in this year. Young and old, family groups and even the infirm will be there," he said.

The highlight of the convention program will be the public discourse on the subject "Human Plans Failing as God's Purpose Succeeds."

A baptism service also will be featured. Last year, 55,775 were baptized in the United States as Jehovah's Witnesses. This represents 10 per cent of the total U.S. membership in only one year.

Reservations for Sunnen due soon

Institutional leaders in the area wishing to visit Camp Sunnen Saturday were reminded today that advance reservations are due by 5 p.m. Wednesday, according to Dr. Thomas Layloff.

Camp Sunnen is located near Potomac, Mo., and is owned and operated by the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The group will leave at 9:30 a.m. from Coolidge Junior High School by bus and return about 5:30 p.m. The cost for lunch and transportation is $5 for adults, $3 for children. Checks should be made payable to "Cahokia Mound Council."

Reservations and checks must be sent to Dr. Layloff, 2832 Grand Ave., by 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Some tax bills not delivered

With only five days remaining in which township tax collectors of the Quad-City area may make local collections, the collectors are encountering a mounting problem because of errors in names and addresses in many of the tax bills prepared for Madison County by a computer firm, it was reported today.

As a result, collectors say, a number of bills have been returned to them by the post offices which were unable to make delivery.

Jerry Maeras, Venice Township collector, said his office has "quite a stack" of returned bills which could not be delivered because of faulty addressing, either because of errors in names of the taxpayers, or in their addresses.

"Those taxpayers who didn't receive a bill may think they still have time to make payments without a penalty, but by the time they get their bills they will be subject to a penalty," Maeras said. The first penalty of 1 per cent will be applied to all unpaid first installments on July 1 when local tax collections are to end.

Collectors of Granite City, Chouteau and Nameki Townships also reported substantial numbers of undelivered tax bills. Granite City Treasurer Paul Rutledge said he had obtained blank billing forms from County Treasurer George Musso to prepare new bills in instances where taxpayers have not received previous billings.

Maeras said his office is requesting that any taxpayer who has failed to receive a real estate tax bill since June 1 call his office at 870-6375 or apply at the Venice Township tax office at 401 Madison Ave., to avoid a penalty.

Venice Township tax payments are being made at the Madison avenue office and Granite City taxpayers may pay bills at any of the three Granite City banks. Bills also may be mailed in Granite City to the treasurer's office in the City Hall. No over the counter payments are being accepted at Rutledge's office.

Chouteau Town Collector Charla Lexow is accepting payments at his office in his home on Old Alton Road, and Nameki taxpayers may pay their bills at the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank during regular banking hours.

The local tax collections will end July 1 when the town collectors must return their tax books to the county treasurer. After July 1, all payments must be made to the county treasurer at Edwardsville.

Rutledge announced that he has made his first tax distribution to the township's six taxing bodies. He said the distribution totaled $544,999 and included $39,785 to Madison County, $13,352 to the township, $326,891 to school district 9, $35,096 to the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, $23,707 to the park district and $106,166 to the city.

State to study means for personal privacy

The newly appointed Governor's Commission on Individual Liberty and Personal Privacy has issued a public report for Illinois citizens' suggestions on how to give greater protection to personal privacy.

The commission, created by an Executive Order issued by Gov. Dan Walker, plans to review the collection and use of information which threatens privacy, with particular attention to computerized and other systems of records on individuals, credit bureaus and other private organizations.

The commission, which is to report its recommendations by Jan. 1, 1975, may consider a wide range of problems involved in the gathering and use of information about individuals by government agencies and private organizations.

These include questions relating to the scope of information which is gathered, the methods used to inquire about individuals and the conditions under which individual files are kept and information shared with other agencies.

Chairman Bernard Weisberg said after the commission's first meeting this week:

"We want to know what Illinoisans perceive to be threats to personal privacy as well as what they understand to be the proper limits to privacy today."

"We would like to learn about people's general concerns in this field as well as about illustrative practices and incidents."

"We want the opinions of those who may be considered invaders of privacy by some as well as of those who may be considered victims of invasions. All materials provided us will be studied with care."

Suggestions and comments may be sent to: Governor's Commission on Individual Liberty and Personal Privacy, Room 2000 — 20th Floor, State of Illinois Building, 160 North LaSalle St., Chicago, Ill., 60601.

Smith profits in comeback

Sales and profits of A. O. Smith Corp. will surge back strongly in the second quarter after a depressed first quarter. L.B. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer, said last week.

Speaking to a group of financial analysts, Smith said that while sales and profits will be below last year's record levels, the second quarter of 1974, profits were $600,000, or $1.12 per share. In the second quarter of 1973, earnings were $6,465,000, or $1.31 per share.

For the first six months of the year, Smith estimated earnings at between $4,750,000 and $5,250,000, or from $1.07 to $1.17 per share. Last year the company earned $10,999,000, or $2.23 per share for the same period.

Sales in the second quarter will be in the neighborhood of $150,000,000, compared with $134,686,000 in the first quarter of 1974, and $166,556,000 in the second quarter of 1973. Six month sales should amount to about $285,000,000, compared with $222,767,000 last year, Smith said.

The principal factor in the improved second quarter performance, Smith said, was increased sales of passenger car frames in the company's Automotive division. The increase in production, coupled with cost reduction programs begun late last year, will allow the division to operate at a profit in the second quarter compared with a loss in the first three months of the year.

Smith said volume in the Automotive division will be down about 23 per cent from a year ago for the first six months and that volume in the second quarter will be off some 15 per cent from last year.

He said the Automotive division, even though it came back strongly in the second quarter, will still account for most of A. O. Smith's sales and profit decline from a year ago.

In addition, Smith said material shortages and rapidly rising material costs are adversely affecting all operations of the company.

In discussing the other major business of the company, Smith said sales for the first half of the year will be slightly ahead of the year ago pace, while profits will be off about 20 per cent. Generally, he added, price increases instituted on non-automotive products since the end of federal controls will not influence A. O. Smith revenues in a significant way until the third quarter.

$3.2 million transit fund

The Illinois Senate Transportation Committee Thursday adopted an amendment to a Downstate mass transit bill that provides a no-strings-attached grant of $3.2 million on an emergency basis to the Bi-State Transit System that serves this metropolitan Illinois-Missouri area.

The amendment, sponsored by Democratic Sen. Kenneth Hall of East St. Louis and Senator Sam Vandalabene of Edwardsville, would provide $3.2 million in subsidies. That bill is sponsored by State Rep. James G. Krause of Belleville. Missouri officials have threatened to cut off Bi-State's service to Illinois unless Illinois guarantees continued bus service to residents on the Illinois side of the Mississippi River.

Meanwhile a movement was afoot to tack another $1.5 million onto the bill. This in the form of a bill reimbursing Bi-State Transit 20 cents for each Illinois rider onto the bill for $3.2 million in subsidies. That bill is sponsored by State Rep. James G. Krause of Belleville. Missouri officials have threatened to cut off Bi-State's service to Illinois unless Illinois provides additional funds to the system.

At the request of the Senators, Bi-State Chairman John Brawley testified at Springfield last week on behalf of the amendment. During his testimony, Brawley pledged that there would be no discrimination in services between Missouri and Illinois. Illinois officials have been critical of Bi-State for allegedly rendering worse service to Illinois residents. Sen. Vandalabene and Hall noted.

"We are delighted that this amendment was adopted in committee," the Senators stated. "and are hopeful that the Senate accepts the bill as rewritten."

"Thousands of Illinois area citizens, particularly those who are less mobile—like senior citizens, the handicapped, and young people desperately need and deserve dependable mass transportation."

"This step taken by Illinois is a commitment to the people of the 56th and 57th Senatorial Districts of the Illinois area served by Bi-State."

Cockrell said his 11-year-old daughter, Sheila, alerted him to the predicament of the other child.

"I heard her (Sheila) yelling that a girl had fallen into the water from a concrete dock where their six children were fishing," he said.

Cockrell said the girl, about one year old, was heading toward him from upstream. She was about 30 feet away when he jumped into the river and intercepted the child. The water was over his head at that point, he recalled.

Cockrell never learned the child's name, but related that "she was pretty shook up and was unhappy because she'd lost her ball."
